

Contents

Foreword by Dr. Susannah Heschel	vii
Preface	xi
List of Tables and Figures	xix

Part I: Recharging the Synagogue

1. Let Us Travel Upstream: Volunteerism as the First Step in Civic Engagement	3
A Secular Glossary	18
2. A Minyan on the Move: The Power of Community outside the Synagogue	27
Why Ten Constitutes a Minyan and the Pertinence of Prayer	45
3. Responding to Complaints on the Journey: The Teachings and the Realities	53
REFLECTION: How Civic Engagement Recharges the Synagogue	77
Rabbi Jonah Dov Pesner, Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism

Part II: Recharging Ourselves as Jews

4. Listening to the Call: Sh'ma	85
The Refugee Crisis through a Jewish Lens	95
5. Finding Our Jewish Voice: Alone I Cannot Sing	103
Is a Blessing Appropriate for Civic Engagement?	119
6. Living Our Values: Protecting the Earth that Sustains Us	125
An Environmentalist Reinterpretation of the V'ahavta	141
REFLECTION: How Civic Engagement Recharges Jews	145
Meir Lakein, JOIN for Justice

Part III: Your Guide to Plugging into Civic Engagement

7. Rabbis, Lay Leaders, and Congregations: A Threefold Cord Is Not Readily Broken Cautionary Tales	153 178
8. Blueprints of the Tabernacle: God Is in the Details	183
9. The Cycle of Civic Engagement: The Work That Fills the Mishkan The Power of Partnerships	199 221
REFLECTION: How Civic Engagement Is Good for America Ruth Messinger, American Jewish World Service	227

Afterword: Moving Forward

10. Vayisu : And They Journeyed . . .	233
Glossary of Hebrew Terms	243
Abbreviations	247
Sources Consulted	249
Index	257